Environment Problems D. R. Charles, 2002-01 One of the purposes of practical housing and equipment is to provide for the biological economic and welfare needs of the birds Fortunately the scientific literature contains a great deal of information on these needs so that a recommended approach to practical problems is to start with an appraisal of the requirements and responses of the birds Then designers and engineers can provide for these needs This book provides information on the needs and responses of poultry to aspects of the climatic environment by means of reviews of the scientific literature

Biological responses to environmental factors are discussed as well as some principles of the movement of air through and within buildings. Many of the principles apply to both indoor production and to the housing attached to free range systems.
